G is for the Good averages that we tried to make
R is for those Rare friendships we shall never forsake
A is for the Activities that we had to pursue
D is for the Dear teachers who helped pull us through U is for the Unusual tests that were ours to fear
A is for our Alma Mater we all hold so dear
T is for the Time that we had to remain
I is for the Ideals we hope to attain
O is for Our memories that we shall never forget
N is for the Number of people that we've met

All these letters together written out
Spell "Graduation," so soon to come about

Yes, the time is drawing near when the final chapter in our High School career will be completed. With the standard statement, "You years to that glorious time. In 1948, when we were "Shy Sophomores" that first day when we walked into the now familiar halls of our Alma Mater how amazed we were at the "Sophisticated Seniors." Never shall we forget the first time we met our Mr. Boone, who was to guide us through the next three wonderful years! Although excited by the feeling that comes only with growing up, we listened attentively as he explained the regulations of OHS.

not, as his assistants, it is no wonder that we were classed as an "industrious class." Yet we all agree that a great part of the credit for this title belongs to our very capable sponsor, Mrs. Clifford Shapen.

To end this very perfect but perplexing year, we chose George Nipper and Lee Pooler to reign as King and Queen over the annual Sophomore Spring Swing.

The year 1949 found us as 'Jolly Juniors' back at OHS with hearts a little happier and our confidence soaring higher. Yes, now at last we were upperclassmen!

Our Presidential Campaign was a tough struggle this year with so many good candidates, but we finally found ourselves blessed with the most vivacious President to ever lead a Junior Class, Anna D'Agostino. Bill Korp again served as Vice-President but this time he was backed with Gay Hollier as Secretary, and Patsy Mell as Treasurer. A hearty "thank you" goes to Mr. Leo Clifford, our sponsor for leading us in such a successful year.

Many incidents stand out in our minds as memorable of our junior year. In April we acquainted ourselves with the art of salesmanship. Why? Why we were to be honored employees of Yowell-Drew-Ivey for one day. We wonder if Bill Korp will ever get over the realization of being General Manager of one of the largest department stores in Orlando.

Surely you can't forget the wonderful time we had decorating "Tiger Den" for that island saunt, The Junior Shipwreck Dance.

Gene Le Armstrong began her dramatic career as in 'Life of the Party.' Bob Marose and Ann Holbrook starred in the first National Forensic League Follies and our own Patsy Mell was chosen 'Miss OHS.' Curt All Avera and Bud Davis were getting much valuable practice on the football team. A distinguished honor for any school, Anna D'Agostino was elected overlord of Girls' State.

There was no better way to terminate this second chapter of our High School history than with the Junior-Senior Prom. Remember how thrilled you were that at last your favorite beau could take you to the most popular dance of the year? Even though the cookies and punch were made by the Junior Girls, and not by the cook of the Waldorf Astoria, we felt mighty proud when the Seniors thanked us for giving them such a beautiful dance.

Between swimming at Daytona and vacationing up North, that summer we used our time to acquire the air of sophistication that belongs to dignified Seniors. For at last after only 12 years (we hope) of extreme brain tension, we were to see our dream come true.

Becoming an unforgettable class was not difficult for us, when you consider that four of the most distinguished citizens of OHS were chosen to lead our class to victory. Under the combined guidance of our most popular Senior Sponsors, Miss Anne Bruce and Miss Evelyn McIntire, these officers: President Bill Kirk, Vice-President George Unruh, Secretary Patsy Newcomer, and Treasurer Patsy Mell found success an easy goal.

Stop right this way ladies and gentlemen, for the best hot dogs and hamburgers that you could ever hope to taste! What's that? The OHS turned into a profit-making eating establishment? No, the 'best food in town' could be found at the 'OHS Senior Booth,' one of the great attractions at the fair.

We can never forget the many good things that contributed in making this happiest year of our lives. The joy we felt when George Nipper, Patsy Newcomer, and Anna D'Agostino were elected as leaders of the Student Council, the pride we held for the grand N.F.L. Invasion conducted by President Margaret Pugham, and the Honor Society candle-light services conducted by President Unruh, and the feeling of gratitude toward the 'Tiger Talk' Staff for publishing such a grand paper.

When we came to school one day dressed in our best pinclores and outers, we weren't in our second childhood. We were celebrating Kids Day with all the trimmings. What memories!

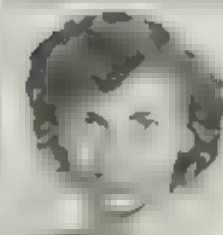

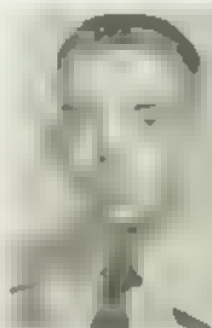

Yes, graduation symbolizes many things for the Seniors of 1950. You, OHS, have given us inspiration that will lead us to many discoveries, high ideals that will bring us much success and above all, friendships that will never be forgotten. You opened your doors of knowledge to us with welcoming arms, and presented us with the key to everlasting happiness and success. There's no wonder that now as we end our three wonderful years as citizens of your halls, we leave with our minds full of knowledge and our hearts full of memories of you, the greatest "FRIEND" of all, BETTY BATCHELOR.

A grid of 32 black and white portrait photographs of students, arranged in 4 rows and 8 columns. The students are of various ethnicities and are dressed in formal attire, including suits, dresses, and blouses. The portraits are set against a light, textured background. The grid is organized as follows:
Row 1: 8 portraits of students, mostly boys in suits and girls in dresses.
Row 2: 8 portraits of students, including boys in suits and girls in dresses.
Row 3: 8 portraits of students, including boys in suits and girls in dresses.
Row 4: 8 portraits of students, including boys in suits and girls in dresses.
The overall composition is a formal yearbook-style grid.

A black and white photograph of a yearbook page. The page features a grid of 32 student portraits, arranged in 4 rows and 8 columns. The students are dressed in formal attire, including suits, ties, and dresses. The portraits are set against a light background, and the overall layout is clean and organized.

The value of the telephone isn't just the calls you make. Sometimes the calls you receive are even more important. You'd miss a lot if the telephone wasn't there.

Just on calls you make, the telephone's a big bargain in convenience, security, success and good times. When you add the calls you receive, it's an even bigger value.

Good Luck, always to a good kid,
Don Lewis

Dear Robert,
I want to wish all the luck in the world to a guy who deserves
it. You're a friendly fellow. Keep it up.
A friend
